

June 8–12, 2020 • Nothing Stops Innovation

When collaboration is more vital than ever, you can still rely on BIO to bring the industry together.

For 2020, the BIO International Convention will transition to a new, virtual event format, BIO Digital. This virtual gathering of the global biotech industry provides access to key partners via BIO One-on-One Partnering, educational resources to help drive your business, and the insights you need to continue critical research and development.

Nothing Stops Innovation. We'll get beyond this health crisis together. Developing treatments and solutions to the world's most urgent challenges and complicated problems is what we do.

BIO ONE-ON-ONE PARTNERING™:

New Paradigms to Maximize Partnering Value

BIO is committed to fostering business development opportunities now more than ever, so we have enhanced BIO One-on-One Partnering to allow you to partner virtually.

BIO One-on-One Partnering will allow you to schedule virtual meetings using your preferred method—whether that is a teleconference system, video meeting service, or another medium—to maximize your business development and licensing potential.

The system features the ability to:

- Self-schedule meetings during five (5) days of partnering from June 8-12, 2020
- View your partnering calendar in your own time zone
- Input your preferred meeting location, with the flexibility to choose whatever virtual meeting option you prefer

Given the current economic and health safety climate, collaborations from the pharmaceutical and biotechnology sector are more important than ever. BIO's virtual partnering system brings together the capital, scientific expertise, and development experience required to turn promising innovation into a successful medicine.

BEYOND DEAL MAKING

The BIO One-on-One Partnering system will not only allow users to connect with thousands of senior life science leaders, but it will also showcase the schedule of BIO's virtual education program, including more than 30 interactive sessions and dozens of company presentations across a variety of therapeutic areas.
